

MY DIARY

Words & Music: Inga Rumpf

All the love stories
Between a woman and a man
Lose their meaning to what
We've experienced

Such a love happens
Once in a thousand years
So much joy
So many tears

But it's long ago
So far away
My emotion
Is still the same

I hold you
Between the pages of my diary
From the beginning to eternity
I will never let you go

I remember
Our kisses when we fell in love
We never could get enough
We were so bad! Oh oh, oh oh...

The paper in my diary
Is yellowed and torn
But you, my love, are
Still clearly drawn

I can hear your breath
I feel your touch
To remind me of you
Doesn't take much

But it's long ago
So far away
My emotion
Is still the same, still the same

I hold you
Between the pages of my diary
From the beginning to eternity
I will never let you go

I remember
All our kisses when we fell in love
We never could get enough
We were so bad! Oh oh, oh oh...

Until eternity... between the pages of my diary...
