I saw a light tonight
It shined mighty bright
Saw it through my open door
While I heard a thundering roar

Of something that exploded there
So I was in a confused fear
Got up and followed that fire-red shine
'Cause I felt a warning sign

Yeah, there seemed to be
Yeah, big misery!

Oh, something was burning down
Couldn't hear a fire alarm around
I had a dreadful feeling deep inside
Oh, I just tried

Never ran so fast in my life
To save the people alive
When I reached that burning house
There was no getting through a crowd

Of staring people were standing about
Watching the flames, taking cameras out
I asked a man who was standing near by
What did happen, when and why?

He said: "Yeah, it seems to be
Yeah, big misery

It's burning down
Burning to the ground
It's a lot of pain
To see it was all in vain

You work every day, every night, every hour of your life
With the good faith that we all have before it's too late
But you see, what can be, when you think you are free
And you're proud of what you've done - in a moment all is gone

Take care with illusion
It shares with confusion

Look, here are some, but I think that you're the only one
Who would help with a faith that you need before it's too late

So go, try your best, save their life, you can't save their happiness

Yeah, it's up to you
Yeah, try to get through“

Oh, they were still alive
And soon they opened up their eyes
After a while hurt will be gone
But confusion goes on and on!
