Who makes the sun and the silvery moon
And the stars shine so bright
Who makes the dawn and the twilight dreams
And the good morning light

Who makes the river and the waterfall
And our love flow on
Who makes the trees and the flowers around
And our heart grow so strong

What is a man, when he's all alone
How can he hold the line
What is a woman, when her love is gone
Until the end of time

Hold on, never leave the one who loves
Hold on, let's believe in what we do
'Cause together we're one
Together we're more
Together we are more than two
Hold on

What makes a man build a house
And plant me a tree
What makes the Lord give us a son
An all this love to me
