

I Know Who I Am

Words & Music: Inga Rumpf

I've got trouble with my identity
Is it frustration, is it sensibility?
Oh, I know who I am
But I don't wanna be like me

I wanna be a cowboy counting desert stars
A sailor with a squeeze-box on a whisky jar
Or a superhasty space man
On his lonely way to Mars

Oh, I know who I am
But I don't wanna be like me

In the morning when he holds me close
Then I feel fine
In the evening - I can't help it
But I changed my mind

I wanna be a lady with silk stockings on
A mistress with a horsewhip in a uniform
Or a superblonde pin-up girl
Sitting on a silver moon

Yeah, I know who I am
But I don't wanna be like me

But my man wants a woman, woman
A woman, woman...
He says "A woman is a woman
And a man is a man!"

Oh, I know who I am
But I don't wanna be like me
