

Long Is The Journey

If eyes want to see you
And hands want your touch
If ears want to hear you
Oh, they can hear so much

If hearts want to enjoy you
And souls want to be free
Oh, they can feel your love
In your sweet harmony

Send us your wisdom
On your holy wings
We're at the morning
Just where the blue begins

If minds want to prove you
Prove if you're there
Our prayers will show
That you are everywhere

We are your children
All in your hand
Long is the journey
To the promised land
